

vote, you all suggest that we are not going to deal with the Medicare problem. The President himself has admitted that Medicare goes bankrupt in 7 years. Yet your party decides to refuse to address the issue.

Which is more important? Squabbling about these votes or getting to the business of the people and addressing issues like Medicare?

Mr. Speaker, I am tired of the partisan bickering. I seldom take part in these partisan debates; I prefer to deal with issues, issues like Medicare. Let us get on with the people's business.

WE SHOULD ALL LIVE BY THE SAME RULES

(Ms. FURSE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. FURSE. Mr. Speaker, I have a history. I have lived in countries that were not democracies. I want to say something about democracy. In a democracy trust is the major component. In a democracy, it is not the military who makes the rules; we make the rules. We, the people, make the rules, and we trust we will all live by them.

The Republican leadership said there will be 17-minute votes. Yet today we have a 30-minute vote. So who can we trust?

That is why, they say, they denied those two Members coming down from here into the well to vote. I was standing right here, Mr. Speaker. I pointed to those Members. I said, Mr. Speaker, there are Members. It is on the videotape.

Mr. Speaker, if we lost the trust in this institution, we lose what is best about a democracy. We all make the rules. We all live by the same rules.

METHINKS THOU DOTTH PROTEST TOO MUCH

(Mr. EMERSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EMERSON. Mr. Speaker, I have actually sat here this morning and listened to all of the righteous indignation being expressed. There was a perceived wrong in the House, and the majority leader, in an act of magnanimity that I have never witnessed in my 15 years here, and, believe me, when we were in the minority, there were many perceived and real acts perpetrated that were not only perceived, they were real acts of wrongdoing, procedurally. This House was never offered the means to address the perception of wrong, in those days. But now the offer has been made, and it was unanimously agreed to.

I think with what is going on here this morning, there is—I would have to refer a little bit to Shakespeare here: Methinks thou doth protest too much. For the lack of an agenda of substance, you want to quibble about a procedural issue that is, in fact, being addressed and addressed in a very reasonable, up front and correct manner.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WERE DENIED REPRESENTATION

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, a frightening thing happened yesterday. Two votes that would have changed the outcome of House action were denied. In addition to the disenfranchisement of two Members, 1 million American people were also denied representation on that vote. What does this kind of capriciousness do to our democracy? What was so important that the business of the House had to be shut down?

Was it the "Salute to Newt" that took place in New York last night? What does this say about the integrity of the vote under Republican rule?

Republicans want to deny potential voters with the repeal of motor-voter. Republicans want to deny real voters by invalidating election results in California and North Carolina. And how we see that they are willing to even deny elected Members the right to vote on the floor of the House if it does not fit in with their outcome.

Mr. Speaker, this bodes ill for the people of America. This is going too far. They are extremists, and they cannot be trusted.

U.S. COAST GUARD COMMENDED FOR LEADING FIGHT AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUGS AND VIOLENT DRUG CARTELS

(Mr. ZELIFF asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ZELIFF. Mr. Speaker, the U.S. Coast Guard is leading the charge against a force that is now our No. 1 national security threat—illegal drugs and violent drug cartels.

Last week, as chairman of the National Security, International Affairs and Criminal Justice Subcommittee, I led a congressional delegation to the front lines in the drug war. We went to the 7th Coast Guard District. What we saw was both impressive and disturbing.

Impressive, because we saw brave men and women in the air and on the sea, putting their lives at risk, in the drug transit zone, hunting narcotraffickers. They are out there protecting our kids and our grandchildren. And they need our help.

Disturbing, because our Nation has badly underestimated the threat posed by drugs and the drug cartels. The interdiction effort needs our support. Congress and President Clinton have to lead.

In the past 2 years, drug use has skyrocketed. But the priority on drug interdiction has fallen. We flew in Falcon jets. But 4 of the region's 10 Falcons have been retired. We flew in HH-60 helicopters. But the pilots have lost radars, aerostats, and their only C-130 AWAC. Resources are at rock bottom, when they should be at the top.

We saw 5,000 pounds of drugs interdicted by the brave souls on the Coast Guard Cutter Mellon. But the raw truth is: The drug cartels are killing us as surely as any foreign enemy. It has got to stop.

From the frontlines, I say to my colleagues and I say to President Clinton, let us get drugs at the top of the national agenda.

To the Coast Guard I say, thank you. You are doing important and dangerous work, and we appreciate it.

CORPORATE FAT CATS

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, let us put a little focus on what this article points out. The reason we adjourned the House early on Wednesday afternoon, what every other American thinks is a regular workday, we adjourned early afternoon so people could run to corporate jets owned by tobacco companies and insurance companies, so they could traipse off and go to New York City, where the New York fat cats were waiting to stuff their coffers with money. If they kept those fat cats waiting, they might not have stuffed so much in the pocket.

Mr. Speaker, I am one of the people who, after the first 100 days, went to this dome, and some were angry for holding up a sold sign, but let me tell the Members, every day it appears to me we are selling this place out. I do not want this to become a coin-operated legislative machine.

Yes, have fundraisers, but have them at night, have them on weekends. Do not have them on Wednesday afternoon with corporate jets escorting Members back and forth, so they do not upset the fat cats, so they will give them lots of money. That is why the American people are really concerned about this sacred trust we have called democracy. It is not totally dead yet, but I will tell the Members, it is in danger, as of today.

GAMES IN THE HOUSE

(Mr. PAXON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAXON. Mr. Speaker, there is sanctimony dripping from the ceiling. I want to set the record straight. I see my colleague, the gentleman from California [Mr. FAZIO] standing here. I would remind the gentlewoman from Colorado [Mrs. SCHROEDER], who just stood and talked about scheduling events on weekends and at times the House is not in session, that the gentleman from California [Mr. FAZIO],
